

At Earthridge, not only are we committed to the efficient distribution of quality products, we also offer a complete after sales and support service. If you have an issue with a product, require a service or simply want advice over the phone you can be assured that you are in contact with a member of our own team who has received full training on all of our products.

We will offer the very same service and diligence after you purchase as you got before the sale, that's the Earthridge Service Promise.
